

PRESS RELEASESACYR HAS BEEN AWARDED THE CONSTRUCTION OF A RAILWAY IN PORTUGAL FOR 130 MILLION EUROS

- The new infrastructure, with a length of 40 kilometers, is part of the strategic South International Corridor, which connects the southern ports of the country and the Spanish rail way network.

Lisbon, May 30, 2019.- Infraestructuras de Portugal has awarded Sacyr Somague the construction of a 40-kilometer long railway. This infrastructure will be a strategic part of the Southern International Corridor, which will connect the ports of the south of the country (Lisbon, Sines and Setúbal) with the railway network that connects with Spain through Badajoz.

The project has investment of 130 million euros and a construction period of 28 months.

The works consist of the construction of a new rail line, which runs mostly through rural areas and which links the Évora Line, the Alandroal subsection and the Eastern Line. The works include the construction of the rail platform, drainage and other infrastructures such as viaducts, crossings, stations, technical buildings and those related to signaling and telecommunications.

In total, construction of 13 bridges that will add a length of 6.3 kilometers has been planned. The highest one will have a 38 meters abutment. In addition, 26 over-and-under crossings will be executed and 30 roads will be renewed.

More backlog in Portugal

This railway contract extends Sacyr Somague's backlog. Among other contracts, the company is currently building two new hotels in Lisbon for an amount totalling 12.5 million euros. They are also carrying out the restoration of the emblematic 25 de Abril bridge in Lisbon.
