SACYR AT SOUTH SUMMIT

- We have a stand and are participating in several presentations and juries at the Startup Competition

Madrid, October 3, 2018.- For yet another year, Sacyr is participating in the South Summit, where we will have a stand to show our most innovative and disruptive projects. The group is actively participating in this edition of the South Summit by forming part of the juries in the Startup Competitions for Mobility and B2B, providing a stand where we are displaying our innovative initiatives and opportunities for collaboration with entrepreneurs to continue transforming the infrastructure and services sector. In addition, Diego Rocha, Director of Innovation at Sacyr, is moderating a round-table discussion about the relationship between corporations and startups on Wednesday, October 3 at 3:50 p.m.; and Víctor de Ávila, Director of Innovation and Strategy at Sacyr, will provide the group's view on the disruption in large corporations on Thursday, October 4 at 5:50 p.m.

Collaboration with the innovator ecosystem

Sacyr's commitment to the innovator community transcends the entire organization and the activities it carries out. Among the main initiatives underway are Sacyr iLabs, Sacyr iFridays, Sacyr Ingenium, Smart Services and Sacyr IChallenges—an open innovation program that searches for the solution to five business challenges within the innovator ecosystem. The best solutions to the challenges posed will be considered for the Sacyr Awards for Innovation, which will be presented in November.
