SACYR TO BUILD THE EUR 215 MILLION JOAN XXIII HOSPITAL EXPANSION IN TARRAGONA

- Spanning 80,000 m², the complex will feature 300 beds and 14 operating theatres. The timeline for completion is 40 months.

Tarragona, 14 January 2025.- The consortium, led by Sacyr Engineering and Infrastructure and including Comsa and Vopi-4, has won two contracts to renovate the Joan XXIII Hospital in Tarragona, with a budget of EUR 215 million.

The project entails construction of a new main building, budgeted at EUR 110 million, plus an area housing facilities and equipment (EUR 105 million). The timeline for completion is 40 months.

The complex will include a general care unit for 300 in-patients, a surgical wing with 14 operating theatres and 63 day-patient care points. It will also feature 20 radio diagnostic rooms, as well as offices, admissions, storage, and exam rooms.

Total area of 80,000 m²

Awarded by Infraestructures de Catalunya, the project involves the construction of a main building with a surface area of nearly 76,500 m², where healthcare and hospitalisation services will be situated, in addition to a 3,500-m² power plant. A new boardwalk and development of the approximately 10,000-m² surrounding site are also planned.

The building will be structured around a central corridor where the entrances will converge. Outpatient services will be located to the east, while the high-tech activity will
